As assistant coach for the Mustangs in 2009, Graves assisted in all facets of the men's soccer program last year including practice and game preparation, recruitment of student-athletes and community service initiatives for local youth groups.

Prior to joining the Mustang staff, Graves gained a wealth of experience through coaching stints with various soccer programs and camps/clinics. For five straight seasons, he was involved in all three levels of play at East Rochester High School where the varsity program posted two sectional championship titles and made an appearance at the New York State Final Four Championship.

Following a stellar high school playing career, Graves attended Keuka College where he was a member of two North Eastern Athletic Conference (NEAC) Championship Teams, graduating with a bachelor's degree in elementary and special education.
