Notice of Education and Enforcement Program

Faculty, Staff and Students,

Morrisville State College fosters safe learning environments and trusting partnerships with students, employees, visitors, guests, conference groups and event attendees on both the Morrisville and Norwich campuses. This communication is one part of the ongoing education and enforcement program related to drug and alcohol use, bias behavior, hazing, harassment, violence, sexual misconduct and overall personal safety. Morrisville State College makes security information available to the community in electronic and print mediums including view books, the student handbook and the faculty/staff handbook found on the college intranet. The Campus Security Report [CSR] contains crime statistics, prevention and reporting policies, disciplinary procedures and personal safety tips. The information can be viewed on-line by visiting the New York State University Police at Morrisville State College Web page. If you have questions, want to pick up a hard copy of the CSR or request that a copy be mailed to you, please call (315) 684-6410 or visit the New York State University Police Department at Morrisville State College, located in Bailey Hall, Morrisville, NY 13408.

Orientation and ongoing programming efforts touch upon the topics described above as central to our education and enforcement program. In addition, our library collection includes video materials which are highly recommended by the Cleary Organization, Inc. A variety of resources and services are available to the college community through the Employee Assistant Program, the Office of Institutional Diversity, the Student Health Center and University Police. Contact information for these and other offices can be found on the Morrisville State College Web site at www.morrisville.edu or by calling the switchboard at (315) 684-6000.

Thank you for helping to maintain a safe and secure learning community. Have a pleasant and fruitful semester.

Sincerely,

Geoffrey S. Isabelle
Dean of Students

The Family Development Credentialing Program (FDC) in September. Classes meet every Wednesday from 2-6 p.m., beginning September 20 and ending March 28, 2007. This training will be at the Canastota office. Its focus is to provide front-line human service workers with the skills and competencies they need to coach families in setting and reaching their own goals for healthy self-reliance.

This course was developed by Cornell University as part of a major New York state initiative to re-orient the way services are delivered toward a family-focused and strength-based approach. Participation in the FDC course builds networks among agencies in our community, fosters greater understanding and respect, and enhances outcomes for families and staff alike.

The FDC credential is recognized by all major family-service agencies, and can be applied toward college credit and continuing education units. The FDC was established in 1996 through a collaboration of 15 major state agencies and the New York State Council on Children and Families. The New York State Department of State’s Community Services Block Grant Program selected Cornell to develop the curriculum.

To earn the FDC, a worker completes 90 hours of interactive classroom instruction based on the Empowerment Skills for Family Workers curriculum, prepares a Skill Portfolio, and passes a state credentialing exam.

For more information about the course and fee schedule, or to register, contact Nina Karhnak, Trainer, at 697-3588, Ext. 14. Registrations are due by August 30.
