Please Join Us to Celebrate Constitution Day
Main Campus
Dr. J. Thomas Hogle, associate professor of social science, will present “The Constitution and the Struggle for Ratification in New York State, 1788” with a film and a discussion on Wednesday, September 20, 2006, at 7 p.m., in STUAC Theater. Refreshments will be served. Register to vote on site.

Norwich Campus
Norwich Campus faculty and students are celebrating Constitution Day (September 18) with a week of activities. Beginning Monday, September 18, a complete copy of the Constitution (with explanatory comments) will be available for public viewing in Roger W. Follett Hall at the entrance to the Gilmour Library. The display will be posted through Friday, September 22.

In addition, all Norwich Campus students will have the opportunity to complete a “Pop Quiz for Constitution Day.” Students completing the quiz and returning it to the Campus Administrative Office will be eligible for prizes from the Campus Store. Additionally, some faculty members have planned discussions on the Constitution and all faculty and students are encouraged to consider ways to integrate Constitutional issues into their classes throughout the week.
Begin Planning NOW for Winter Term

Although fall classes are just beginning, it’s not too early to think about taking a course during the college’s winter term. To enable students to pick up one or more required or elective credits during that long holiday break, the Norwich Campus will be offering the following classes on-line. On-line classes will run from December 19, 2006 – January 20, 2007.

PARA 101 (3 credits) - Introduction to Paralegal Studies - Explore career opportunities in this exciting field.

SOCS 126 (3 credits) - Environmental History - Fulfills Morrisville State College social sciences and SUNY Gen. Ed. “Other World Civilizations” requirement.

MUSI101 (3 credits) - Introduction to Music and Art - Fulfills Morrisville State College humanities and SUNY Gen. Ed. art requirement.

ENGL 275 (1 credit) - Creative Writing - Develop your creative writing skills.

Information on Morrisville State College’s other on-line and face-to-face winter term courses will be available on the Web and from your faculty advisor during the winter/spring scheduling process.

Summer will be going strong at the library until the end of September with an exhibit on the gallery wall called South Street Wildflowers. The close-up photographs are the work of Phyllis Lambert, a former Morrisville State College employee and a graduate of the journalism program. The photo subjects are wildflowers Phyllis encountered while walking on South Street and Hart Road just outside the village of Morrisville.
Students, staff, alumni and local spectators sit on the hill facing the football field for Morrisville State College’s first NCAA D-III football game.

The Academic Support Center Seeks Applications for Peer Tutor Positions

Are you a good student who likes to help other students succeed in college? If so, the Academic Support Center (ASC) has job openings for part-time peer tutors in a variety of subjects taught on campus. Morrisville students who have both a B (3.00) or higher in a course and a cumulative GPA of 2.75 or higher may apply for a peer tutoring position. Peer tutors work a maximum of 10 hours per week and earn $6.75 per hour. Application forms may be picked up at the ASC in Room 038 in Onondaga Hall. For more information, please contact Ms. Stephanie Lawhorne, ASC Director, at 684-6042 or lawhorsl@morrisville.edu.

Career Corner

Planning to Transfer?

Morrisville State College (MSC) and Cornell University would like to announce The Pathway to Success Partnership Program. This program was created by the generous support of the Jack Kent Cooke Foundation and was launched to provide prospective transfer students with information, support and guidance as they explore the transfer admission and financial aid processes.

MSC and Cornell cordially invite you to attend a Student Transfer Information Session on Thursday, September 21, 2006, from noon-1 p.m. or from 1-2 p.m. in Spader Hall, Room 107. Representatives from Cornell will be available to discuss the benefits of The Pathway to Success Program as well as provide general information about degree programs and options from their seven undergraduate colleges.

If you have any questions regarding The Pathway to Success Partnership Program or the Student Transfer Information Session, feel free to stop by the Career Planning and Services Office on the third floor of the Whipple Administration Building or call 684-6275.

Immediate Openings Available for Residence Counselor Positions with Springbrook (Otsego and Chenango Counties)

Springbrook is seeking qualified individuals interested in working as residence counselors at homes for people with disabilities at various locations in Otsego and Chenango Counties. Full-time and part-time opportunities are available. Schedules vary by location with a very limited number of weekday openings available. Springbrook, a not-for-profit organization employing approximately 650, offers residential, educational and support services to approximately 500 children and adults with developmental disabilities in Central New York.

Applications are available at the Norwich Campus and in the Career Planning and Services Office at the Morrisville Campus or by calling Springbrook at 607-286-7171. For more information, visit Springbrook online at www.springbrookny.org.

Morrisville State College’s Norwich Campus and Springbrook recently announced an exciting new “Employment/Education Partnership” to offer a 30-credit Direct Support Professional (DSP) Certificate in Human Services. This program is offered as an employment benefit to select Springbrook employees.

Please Note

The Career Planning and Services Office would like to highlight various businesses in the area that could possibly provide future employment options to Morrisville students. We would also like to feature businesses in MOCHA that have employed Morrisville graduates or have welcomed our interns within their companies.

If you have any suggestions or recommendations of businesses that would be a great resource for our students, please contact our office at 315-684-6275 or e-mail joneshr@morrisville.edu.

Thank you.
