Online Depression and Anxiety Screening
Exercise, a healthy diet, lots of water, enough sleep... Our Health: More often than not we associate it with physical wellness. We tend to forget how important it is to feel good mentally as well as physically.

Mental illnesses can affect persons of any age, race, religion or income. Each year an estimated 26 percent of Americans will suffer from a diagnosable mental disorder. Serious mental illnesses include major depression, bipolar disorder, generalized anxiety disorder, and post-traumatic stress disorder (PTSD).

When untreated, mental illnesses like depression and anxiety disorders can disrupt daily functioning and make it difficult to cope with life’s challenges. These illnesses, however, are treatable.

As part of our ongoing outreach to the Morrisville State College Community, Counseling Services at the Student Health Center invites you to take advantage of free, anonymous, online mental health self-assessments for depression and anxiety disorders.

Visit our Web page at http://www.morrisville.edu/health_center/counseling.aspx to complete a simple online questionnaire, and you will receive immediate, customized feedback as well as the opportunity to schedule an appointment with a counselor. For further information or to schedule a confidential counseling appointment, please call the Student Health Center at 684-6078. All services at the Student Health Center are free to enrolled Morrisville State College students.

Please stay tuned for upcoming information about National Depression Screening Day scheduled for October 11, 2007. On that day, counselors will be in STUAC offering depression/anxiety screenings, free stress balls, and more!

Career Corner
Morrisville State College (MSC) and Cornell University would like to announce The Pathway to Success Partnership Program. This program was created by the generous support of the Jack Kent Cooke Foundation and was launched to provide prospective transfer students with information, support and guidance as they explore the transfer admission and financial aid processes.

MSC and Cornell cordially invite you to attend a Student Transfer Information Session on Monday, October 1, 2007, from 12-1 p.m. in Crawford Hall Room 103 or from 2-3 p.m. in Spader Hall Room 107. Representatives from Cornell will be available to discuss the benefits of The Pathway to Success Program as well as provide general information about degree programs and options from their seven undergraduate colleges.

If you have any questions regarding The Pathway to Success Partnership Program or the Student Transfer Information Session, feel free to stop by the Career Planning and Services Office or call 684-6275.

We hope to see you there!
