The Clothesline Project

T-shirts decorated by women affected by violence are now on display in the Roger W. Follett Hall Atrium, Morrisville State College, Norwich Campus.

Initiated in 1990, Cape Cod, MA, The Clothesline Project addresses the issue of violence perpetrated against women. The program allows women affected by sexual and/or domestic violence the opportunity to express their emotions by decorating a shirt. The shirts are then placed on display, on the ‘clothesline’, to be viewed by others and to serve as a testimony for violence against women.

The t-shirts currently on display in the Roger W. Follett Hall atrium were decorated and designed by local women affected by violence. Created in the Women’s Group, a service offered to women affected by violence, at Catholic Charities of Chenango County, the project provided a unique opportunity.

The t-shirts will be on display for the whole month of April. Designated as Sexual Assault Awareness Month, April focuses on sexual violence awareness and prevention. To further address this issue a Take Back the Night Rally March has been scheduled for Friday, April 25 at the Norwich Campus, Morrisville State College. Please take this opportunity to participate in raising local awareness and knowledge.

For further information, please contact Beth Neuland at Catholic Charities of Chenango County at (607)334-8244 or email: eneuland@ccofcc.com.

National Alcohol Screening Day

Please stop by STUAC between 11 a.m. and 2 p.m. April 10 to take a free self assessment questionnaire regarding alcohol use. This is a great opportunity to gather helpful information about alcohol abuse and addiction. You will also have the opportunity to meet with a counselor and pick up fun giveaway items!

For more information or to schedule an appointment with a counselor, please call the Student Health Center at 684-6078.

ISP Student Scheduling

Fall 2008 scheduling has started. Students should see their advisor (Mr. Efimenko, Ms. Yannarelli, or Ms. Evans) to make a schedule for fall.

Terrell Armstead, liberal arts and sciences--humanities and social science major, participates in a volleyball tournament. The games were held during Kick Butts Day, a national awareness day to quit smoking.
