Nutritional Information for Mustang Alley

Have you ever wondered just how many calories you’re eating at lunch? Do you want to know if the food you’re ordering has a healthy amount of vitamins and minerals? Mustang Alley may be able to help. Many of the menu items at Mustang Alley are now available for review on the Web. Visit mac.morrisville.edu/dining/menus/mustangmenu.aspx and click on any of the underlined menu items to view their nutritional information.
Kit Engle, dietetic technician major, stands before her mixed media piece. A social networking presentation, given by six Collegiate Science Technology Entry Program (CSTEP) students, introduced participants to various networking sites and relayed the impact they could have on furthering entrepreneurial endeavors, the focus of a SCORE seminar.

(Center) Kimani Smith, entrepreneurship and small business management major, assists SCORE member, Art Holben.
Side Kick Ambassadors Wanted

Morrisville State College will be hosting spring Side Kick Days on Tuesday, Mar. 31 and Wednesday, April 1. The Side Kick program allows accepted students to visit the campus and attend classes pertinent to their major. To ensure that our accepted fall 2009 students have a great experience while visiting campus, we are soliciting Side Kick Ambassadors to showcase their own typical day at Morrisville.

If you are interested in participating in this event, please stop by the Admissions Office or contact Lindsey Graham at 800-258-0111 or grahamlm@morrisville.edu. A tentative Side Kick schedule of events can be found at http://www.morrisville.edu/admission/sidekickdays.aspx

Thank you for helping to make this a valuable experience for the future students of Morrisville State College!
