

2nd Annual

MORRISVILLE STATE COLLEGE

Science, Technology and Society

SYMPOSIUM

“A Bachelor Degree for the 21st Century”

Energy Alternatives

Exploring the challenges of our energy future

Thursday, April 10, 2008

Events Include:

- Tours of alternative energy facilities in the area
- Artistic installations on energy use
- A panel Discussion on Energy Alternatives
  - Introduction by Morrisville State College President Raymond Cross
  - Dr. Benjamin Cohen, University of Virginia
  - Dr. David Hess, Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute
  - Dr. Jody Roberts, Chemical Heritage Foundation

Events are Free and open to the public!
Online registration is required for the tours.

For more information on the time of the events, updates on activities, and invited speakers, and to register for specific events, please visit:

www.morrisville.edu/sts/symposium

Event Times:

- Fenner Wind Farm Tour:
12:30 p.m.
- Methane Digester Tour:
12:30 p.m. and 1:30 p.m.
- Panel discussion in Little Theater:
3 p.m.

Plus:

Come early to the Student Center (STUAC) lobby to consider and view information provided by local groups affiliated with energy alternatives and to view the entries into the affiliated Art Exposition

The STS Symposium is made possible in part by grants from the Morrisville State College Sheila Johnson Institute, Morrisville State College CSTEP (College Science and Technology Entry Program), and from the New York Council for the Humanities, a state affiliate of the National Endowment for the Humanities. Any views, findings, conclusions or recommendations expressed in this program do not necessarily represent those of the National Endowment for the Humanities.

