

Dear Students:

Tutoring will be available during final exam week from Sunday, December 9, through Thursday, December 13, but on a more limited scale than when classes are in session. Appointments will not be available during finals week. Although peer tutors won't be available during final exams, most professional tutors will be available on a drop-in, first-come, first-served basis. Some professional tutors will be working the same hours they have throughout the semester, but others will be working different hours.

In the schedule below, you will find the following sections of information:

- Tutors for students whose first language isn't English (ESL/ELL)
- Academic Coaches for students majoring in DTEC, ISP, or NURS
- Tutors for EOP Students
- Tutors for all students listed by the courses that they tutor (this list begins on page 2)

To find tutors for your courses, look up your classes by subject in the section "Tutors by Course" that begins on page 2. Subjects are listed alphabetically, and with each subject, particular course numbers are listed. If your subject or particular course isn't listed, then we do not have help in that class. Next, find the tutors who are listed beside your course numbers; then you will see their work schedules. "T" is for Tuesdays; "R" is for Thursdays. The yellow highlights are used to lessen confusion about which courses and hours go with which tutor.

NightOWL online tutoring (7:00 PM to midnight Sundays through Thursdays) is also available through Thursday, December 13, and more information is available at <https://www.morrisville.edu/contact/offices/tutoring-center/online-tutoring>. The specific subjects for which online tutoring is available are noted below as well as on this webpage.

Additional information about tutoring is available at <https://www.morrisville.edu/contact/offices/tutoring-center/tutoring-schedule>.

Sincerely,

Stephanie Lawhorne
